The Story I Like Best Is: The Rabbi and the cow.

I like this story best because: it has more justice in it which makes it more understandable for me. Also I like it because it shows people should be good because you will get a reward sometimes and if you're bad you'll get a punishment. Also I like this story because its more of a story, it has more to it. Another reason is because it has more words I haven't heard of like angel of death and Rabbi.
